

Groundwater Protection

Using a step-by-step approach, a plan will be designed and implemented to address and monitor groundwater conditions at the site over time. Based on data collected from the site, adjustments will be made to the plan as necessary leading to continuous improvements in site conditions. The framework for evaluation and future action is as follows.

