

Quentin P. Riggins Riggins is senior vice president of Governmental and Corporate Affairs for Alabama Power Company. In this role, he leads the company's government relations efforts on the state and federal levels. He is also responsible for coordinating Alabama Power's grassroots and corporate relations programs which seek to interact and engage with key stakeholders statewide and nationally.

Prior to joining Alabama Power in 2011, the Montgomery native served for nearly a quarter century in Alabama state government. This includes serving in the administration of one governor, in the cabinet of another governor, and as a senior staff member for a long-serving speaker of the Alabama State House of Representatives.

As the senior vice president of the Business Council of Alabama, Riggins led governmental affairs efforts for the organization's 5,000 corporate members before the Alabama State Legislature and the United States Congress. After six successful years, Riggins began his own governmental affairs firm in Montgomery, Alabama, before joining Alabama Power as vice president of government affairs.

A second team All-American and All-Southeastern Conference linebacker,

Riggins earned his bachelor's degree at Auburn University in marketing and distributive education. As a current member of Auburn's Board of Trustees, Riggins provides leadership and governance to the university's academic, administrative, and athletic enterprises. He serves in various leadership roles for Auburn as a devoted alumni, trustee, and friend.

Quentin P. Riggins
Senior Vice President
Governmental and
Corporate Affairs
Alabama Power
Company

Deeply committed to service to his state and his community, Riggins currently serves on the boards of Grandview Medical Center, the Business Council of Alabama's ProgressPAC, the Birmingham Jefferson Civic Center Authority, the Women's Fund of Greater Birmingham and the Frank M. Johnson, Jr. Institute. He has previously served on the boards of Leadership Alabama and the Baptist Foundation.

Quentin and his wife, Kimi (a proud alumna of the University of Alabama), have one daughter, a student at Auburn University. The couple resides in Trussville.

