

Stephanie K. Cooper serves as vice president of Corporate Sustainability at Alabama Power Company. She began working in the Southern Company system in 2007 as a real estate attorney at Georgia Power Company, then served as the assistant to the vice president of Environmental Affairs and as a regulatory attorney. Cooper was director of Corporate Communication for Southern Company prior to joining Alabama Power Company in 2016 as vice president of Public Relations.

Cooper previously worked as an assistant district attorney in the Stone Mountain Judicial Circuit, DeKalb County, Georgia, and deputy press secretary for the governor of Georgia.

She is a board member of the Alabama Power Foundation, the Friends of WBHM and the Friends of the Birmingham Botanical Gardens, active with the United Way of Central Alabama and the Jones Valley Teaching Farm, and a member of the 2018 Leadership Birmingham class, the Women's Energy Network and the Lawyers Club of Atlanta. She has served as president of the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division and as a member of the State Bar of Georgia Board of Governors and remains active in committee work.

She is a graduate of LEAD Atlanta, an Outstanding Atlanta honoree and was named to Birmingham Magazine's 2018 "Women Who Shape the State" and Georgia Trend magazine's 2012 "Top 40 Under 40" list. In 2019, she was named a "Smart Women" honoree by the Women's Fund of Greater Birmingham.

Stephanie K. Cooper
Vice President,
Corporate Sustainability
Alabama Power
Company

Cooper earned her law degree from Georgia State University and her undergraduate degree from the University of Georgia. She is married to Dane Cooper and they have a son, Pierce.

