

Ashley Robinett is Alabama Power's vice president of Corporate Real Estate. In her role, she is responsible for managing the company's land holdings in support of business objectives through land management, acquisition and sales.

Most recently, Robinett was the area manager for Alabama Power's Birmingham Division, where she was responsible for business office operations, customer relations, community development and external affairs.

Robinett joined Southern Company, the parent of Alabama Power, in 2001 as an engineer for the Southern Power wholesale subsidiary. She worked several years in Southern Company's fuel services organization, managing emission allowance procurement and other strategic environmental issues for the generating fleet.

In 2008, she returned to Southern Power to manage its resource planning, risk analysis and business case development functions, including renewable energy. She has served as the assistant to the executive vice president and chief operating officer of Southern Company and to the president and chief executive officer of Alabama Power.

Robinett is a graduate of Leadership Birmingham and is active in the community, serving on the board of directors for Children's Harbor and the Kiwanis Club of Birmingham, and as the immediate past president of the board of directors for Preschool Partners. She has also served on the board of directors of the American Cancer Society.

She is the recipient of the 2019 Auburn Alumni Association's Young Alumni Achievement Award and the 2018 Outstanding Young Auburn Engineer award by the Auburn University College of Engineering. Robinett is a member of the Auburn Alumni Association board of directors and also remains involved with the university through the Auburn Engineering Alumni Council and 100 Women Strong, an initiative supporting female students in the College of Engineering. Robinett also serves on the Southern Company Diversity and Inclusion Alliance, overseeing the alignment and execution of D&I strategies.

Robinett received a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering and a minor in business from Auburn University. She is actively involved in her church, Dawson Family of Faith. She and her husband, Ryan, have two children: William and Claire.

Alabama Power, based in Birmingham, provides reliable, affordable energy to 1.4 million customers across the state.
